Confidential resources will not share your information, and no action will be taken by the University as a result.
Filing a Report with the University

You may make a report with the University’s Office of Institutional Equity and/or the applicable law enforcement agency. Each option has its own, and separate, set of procedures and potential outcomes. You may choose to pursue one or both options. You are not required to file a complaint with law enforcement. Additionally, opting not to pursue a complaint with law enforcement does not prevent you from pursuing a complaint with the University, and vice versa.

Will the information I share be kept confidential? It is important to know that the Office of Institutional Equity is not designated as a confidential office. We take privacy concerns seriously and, in accordance with policy, the information is shared only when necessary and only to those who need to know. Please see the table on page one for a list of resources that are designated as confidential.

Can I make an anonymous report? Yes; but, please note that it may limit the steps the University can take to address the issue. If you want to confidentially discuss filing a report (before you decide to do so), we recommend contacting the RSVP Center.

What happens after I make a report? An Equity Consultant/Investigator will contact you to discuss your options. Part of this discussion includes learning more about your particular situation and what outcome you would like to see. Not every case requires a formal investigation and the Equity Consultant/Investigator will work with you to resolve the matter in the most effective and appropriate way possible.

If there is an investigation, what does the process look like? An investigation is one part of the Equity Resolution Process. It involves informing the person being accused of the allegations (Respondent) and providing them an opportunity to respond. It also involves speaking with witnesses and collecting relevant evidence. For a high-level overview, please see the flowchart on the following page and for more detailed information, check out “Resolution Procedures” in the infobox to the right.

What is the role of the Equity Consultant/Investigator? The Equity Consultant/Investigator is a neutral party responsible for conducting a complete, thorough, and impartial investigation. To support the impartial nature of this role, the Equity Consultant/Investigator is not an advocate for either party but is available to answer questions and provide resources and accommodations throughout the process.

Sanctions by the University

Individuals found responsible for violating one of the University’s Non-Discrimination policies may be subject to sanctions, including but not limited to:

University Policies and Procedures

The University uses procedures referred to as either the Equity Resolution Process or the Title IX Resolution Process to address reports of harassment and discrimination. The process used depends on when the reported incident occurred, and whether the person accused is a student, faculty, or staff member. Please visit our website to review the policies and procedures that may apply to your situation. You may also contact us to discuss this information.
Resolution Process Overview

This is a high-level overview of the full process. Resolution options and other procedural details will vary based on when the reported incident occurred and whether the respondent (person being accused) is a student, faculty member, or staff member. You can find more information on our website or by contacting us to schedule a time to speak.

Filing a Report with Law Enforcement

Reports may be made to the University of Missouri Police Department or to the Police Department in the jurisdiction where the incident occurred. Law enforcement can initiate a criminal investigation and provide assistance in obtaining Orders of Protection from a court of law, which will be honored both on and off campus.

Students and employees are encouraged to file a report as soon as possible. Delays in reporting may make gathering evidence more difficult, but it may still be possible. Each person who has experienced sexual violence, relationship violence, or stalking should consider all of their options to determine what is best for their unique situation, keeping in mind that filing a police report may or may not be the best course of action. Opting not to file a police report does not prevent someone from filing a complaint with the University.

The RSVP Center and the Office of Institutional Equity can provide support if you want assistance making a report to the police.

Your Rights in the Resolution Process

Both parties have the right to:

- Be accompanied by a Support Person of your choice to all related meetings.
- Present information and witnesses.
- Be simultaneously informed in writing of the outcome of any disciplinary action.
- Be informed of the procedures and deadline for appealing the outcome.
- Be informed when such results become final.
